

Parent Brag Sheet

The reason we instituted this form was to help make sure important information was not overlooked when your child's college recommendation letter is written. Colleges consider more than just a student's academic average and SAT scores, especially when the situation warrants. Sometimes students feel uncomfortable telling us about strengths or problems. Unusual circumstances can include family crisis, health problems, outstanding skills/talents, or any factor which could have affected the individual performance of the student. We do not view this as bragging or rationalizing. This information can make a difference in college admissions. Please use a separate sheet of paper if necessary for your answers.

Thank you.

*If you would like, please return the answers to these questions to your child's counselor in a sealed envelope labeled confidential.

Name of student: _____

- 1.) What do you consider to be the outstanding accomplishment of your child during the past 3 or 4 years? Why did you select these as the most important?

- 2.) In what areas has your child shown the most development and growth during the past 3 or 4 years?

- 3.) What do you consider to be his/her outstanding personality traits?

- 4.) If you have to describe your son/daughter in 5 adjectives, what would they be?

- 5.) Are there any unusual circumstances, which have affected your child's educational experiences or personal experiences?